National Park

Pyhä-Häkki

how ancient forest fires have left their marks on the grand old trees.

Take a stroll into the best preserved old-growth forests in Southern Finland. See 400-year-old pine trees that bear scars of ancient forest fires. Such forests give you a sense of timelessness, encouraging you to slow down and savour the natural scene.

The Majestic Pine Trees of the Old-growth Forest

In Pyhä-Häkki National Park you can experience atmospheric old-growth forests, and look out for many rare woodland plants and animals. Explore the park's centuries-old pine forests and see

A trip for the whole family to enjoy

Pyhä-Häkki offers easily accessible and versatile trails. Immerse yourself in the scents and spaciousness of a marsh in the lap of the ancient forest. Enjoy a tasty packed meal at the Kotajärvi cooking shelter. Sense the world of the past in the Poika-aho Crown Tenant Farm. These days, the farm serves as a rental hut inhabited by shepherds during summertime. You can rent the hut in the spring and autumn, even for just one night. The 17-kilometre Tulijärvi trail with lean-to shelters is also suitable for two-day hikes.

Do you need a guide or lodging?
